BA Partnership With MindEdge Offers Online Training At Deep Discounts

If you are looking to stand out from the crowd in the competitive Project Manager field, obtaining PMP® certification, or just learning more about project management principles, can elevate your status and help you earn a salary that exceeds non-credentialed Project Managers.

Recognizing the need for more convenient, high quality training options, The Builders Association has partnered with MindEdge, a Global Registered Education Provider with the Project Management Institute, to offer a unique and affordable online Project Management Training Program that includes a library of online courses and real-world learning Simulation at special introductory rates.

For a limited time, members of The Builders Association will receive 20% discount off all course or simulation purchases. Just enter Discount Code bldrs20 in the Discount Code field when registering.

These online learning programs are a convenient and affordable way to either prepare for the PMP® Exam or just brush up on basic project management processes and procedures. Courses and interactive Simulations are 100% web-based, in self-study format and delivered anytime and anywhere with internet access, making learning possible 24 hours per day, 7 days per week, and 365 days per year.

Each course combines text, graphics, interactive exercises, practice tests, real world examples, web references and readings to help learners quickly retain lessons. An innovative "Ask the Expert" feature also gives learners ongoing support, allowing participants to ask questions about course content and receive an answer from a subject matter expert within 24 hours.

Participants successfully completing this program earn 35 Professional Development Units (PDU's) and are well prepared for the PMP® certification exam. Or, if you already have your PMP® certification, The Builders Association offers a variety of online courses and simulations that review the PMBOK® Guide knowledge concepts vital to a Project Manager's training and qualifies learners for 3.5-25 PDU's.

For course descriptions and registration information, visit the MindEdge page under the Education Section of www.bldrs.org. For more information, contact Stacey Kelly at skelly@bldrs.org.
